

Global Workers' Rights

LER 497G

Spring 2013

T R 11:15 am- 12:30 pm

Dr. Dan Hawkins

This course examines the multiple debates around the topic of workers' rights: taking legal, political, and social perspectives and linking them to contemporary debates and proposals to strengthen workers' rights in the global economy.

The course will examine the problems and benefits of:

